S, using the modified Mosher's method.Q:
Jenkins git clone error I am getting the following error when using Jenkins with Git. Credentials cache file
C:\Users\\\.ssh\credentials not found The remote end hung up unexpectedly fatal: Could not read from remote repository. Please make sure you have the correct access rights and the repository exists. I have added the following entry to the git section of my jenkins configuration file: [ssh] ssh_args = -o ForwardAgent=yes -o ForwardX11=yes I have noticed that this is a problem for me only when using an SSH key, but when I do a manual clone the command is working as expected. Ideas Should I try the ssh_args with -h? Some other environment variables should I be setting? Is there a way to get Jenkins to work with SSH over HTTP Cloning over HTTP gets the username and password to the Git repository,
